

Our Mission:

The current energy infrastructure needs to be transformed globally with the aim of reducing fossil fuel related conflicts, mitigating climate change.

Our mission is to contribute to this goal by promoting research, innovation and market integration of renewable energy systems through collaborative efforts across all sectors of society.

WIP is a renewable energy consultancy with many years of experience in managing research and innovation projects and organising leading conferences and events in the sector.

With currently around 20 employees, we plan to continue to consistently and sustainably expand our position in the field of renewable energies.

Our great team is looking forward to your reinforcement as a
